

NAME OUR NEW DIGS

A fresh start and identity for this old stony bungalow definitely calls for a new name. We want YOUR input.

We're restoring 4314 Farragut Street into a new home for the Hyattsville CDC and its non-profit affiliates serving the area. We need a new name to dedicate the restored building.

Recommend up to 5 names by June 1st. Our Board will vote, and the winner will gain a one-year membership to the CDC and a $75 gift certificate to a Hyattsville restaurant of your choice.

Background: "Out of the mouths of babes: Before we began work, one neighbor's daughter said about the building, "That house is crumbling like the Roman Empire."

Once home to the first Cable TV franchise in Prince George's County and Storer Cable, the Hyattsville CDC is re-purposing this 2-story bungalow to serve Hyattsville and the Gateway Arts District's revitalization goals. It will house the CDC's programs, the Creative Edge Studio of Prince George's County, and two artists-in-residence. Will open early 2014; more info is on our website.

Kids are encouraged to participate!
